Alex O'Connor joins L&L Holding Co. as acquisitions associate

By Mark Buckshon

New York City-based L&L Holding Company says it has appointed Alex C. O'Connor as an associate in the firm's acquisitions department.

O'Connor will join L&L's acquisitions team headed by senior managing director of acquisitions, Yong W. Cho. In his new post, he will focus on the valuation, strategy and execution of new investments for L&L. His responsibilities will include acquisition underwriting and due diligence, financial modeling and deal structuring.

The appointment of O'Connor continues the hiring surge at L&L in recent months, the company says.

"We are pleased to welcome Alex at a time when we are exploring a number of potential investment and development opportunities," said David Levinson, chairman and CEO of L&L Holding Company. "It will be particularly valuable to have Alex on board as we expand our team and continue our pursuit of the next great New York City office development and mixed-use projects."
